Automann Breaks Ground on Georgia Distribution Center

Paulding County, Georgia – Friday, July 14th, 2023, Automann is proud to announce the groundbreaking of its new southeast distribution center at the Silver Comet Industrial Park in Hiram, Georgia. The state-of-the-art facility, spanning 367,000 square feet, will enhance service capabilities for southeastern heavy-duty truck parts distributors and is projected to generate over 150 job opportunities across various departments, including warehouse, customer service, operations, supervisor, and engineering positions.

Strategically located west of Marietta between Interstates 75 and 20, this new distribution center represents Automann’s seventh facility globally (fifth in the United States), reinforcing their commitment to expanding their distribution network. The Class-A institutional-quality design and construction exemplify Automann’s dedication to delivering superior service and products.

Automann extends its appreciation to its developer partners, Goldenrod Cos. and SK Commercial Realty, as well as Paulding County, for their collaboration throughout this project.

“We want to express our heartfelt thanks to our customers and employees for their unwavering support and dedication. This new facility in Hiram, GA is a pivotal addition to our distribution network, and we are excited about the service it will allow us to provide. We proudly embrace Hiram, GA as the home of Automann’s southeast distribution center, and look forward to making positive contributions to the local community.” -Dennis Singh Khanduja, President of Automann, Inc.
