Automann Celebrates Three Decades of “Keeping Trucks Moving”

Monroe Township, NJ, April 26, 2024, - Automann Celebrates 30 years of “Keeping Trucks Moving”. The company celebrated this momentous occasion by having a celebration at each of its locations in the US and Canada. Founded in 1994 by Dennis Singh Khanduja, Automann has become an industry leading global distributor of heavy-duty truck and trailer parts. The company has grown from a single location in Mahwah, NJ to 4 strategically located distribution centers (5th coming soon) in the US and 2 distribution centers in Canada totaling more than 1.5 million sq. ft. of warehouse space. With the company’s original focus on suspension hardware the Automann product range has grown to greater than 40,000-part numbers across 18 product categories. Today the product portfolio consists of both Automann branded parts coupled with industry recognized brand partners.

Commemorating this occasion the companies leadership team showed its deep appreciation by thanking all the team members. They highlighted that the collective efforts of all departments have contributed to the long-term vision of becoming a leading supplier to the heavy duty industry. Mr. Khanduja went on to acknowledge that the companies strong supplier relationships, combined with its network of distributors will continue to be key elements for the companies continued growth. Equally exciting, the company is well poised to continue its growth trajectory, having made significant investments in its physical infrastructure, digital systems and personnel.

The festivities included catering, games and music along with a raffle raising money for WhyHunger, donating a total of $10,000 to the organization.

About WhyHunger
