Automann adds Euroricambi Transmission & Rear Differential Parts

Euroricambi is an Italian producer of precision OE transmission and differential gears. They combine the best mechanical tradition with the highest quality materials and have worldwide presence.

Euroricambi has grown to become a large industrial reality as a result of constant updating thanks to its production processes and material technologies. Parts coverage includes heavy duty commercial vehicles, trucks and buses, to earthmoving and mining machines, passenger cars and light and medium duty commercial vehicles.

A proven track record of over 45 years of in-house drivetrain components manufacturing. Over 16,000 active drivetrain skus with electronically cataloged exploded-view diagrams. Everything from differential side gears, ring & pinions to manual transmission gearing and even automated transmission components. Utilizing state-of-the-art manufacturing technologies, Euroricambi's drive for consistent quality is relentless.
